Live Round on Saturday of Arts in the Alley

Entry Recording Selections

All videos should consist of either a solo or duo performance of a song either A Capella or with instrumental accompaniment. Any style of music is excepted that is family friendly in its lyrical content. VOGC reserves the right to not allow songs that are deemed inappropriate. Entry can not be any longer than 3 minutes.

Preliminary Online Judging

Preliminary round recordings are reviewed by a selection committee of professional judges with various musical backgrounds, talent and creativity. The judging for the online preliminary round is based upon the following criteria: *Performance metrics will apply at onsite final rounds

Quality of tone and pitch

Level of difficulty and dynamics

Accuracy of intonation and diction

Quality of vocal technique and inflection

Advancement to the Live Event

After online judging is completed, twenty contestants will advance to the first of two live rounds held on Saturday during the Arts in the Alley Festival located in the heart of Grove City, Ohio. This will be a one day event and the winners will be determined by the end of day. Final notification of the top 20 online contestants, chosen by a diverse judging panel, will be sent via email no later than a week before the live event.

All 20 live contestants should be prepared to perform two live song selections and provide backtrack files or the type of accompaniment 48 hours after they have been selected to attend the live event.

If you are chosen to be part of the 20 semi-finalists, we will require your immediate acceptance to attend the one day live event. If you can not attend please notify us within 24 hrs so we can reach out to another contestant. This will also enable us to provide you with important information regarding the one day event requirements.

The winner of the Voice of Grove City will sing live at the Arts in the Alley finale awards presentation on Sunday afternoon at the close of the Arts in the Alley weekend.

Judging Criteria

Judges will consist of local and regional vocal, music, and entertainment professionals. Family and friends are encouraged to attend. A judging panel, consisting of no less than five professional judges will be present at both live rounds on Saturday beginning Saturday at noon (exact times will be communicated upon your acceptance to attend the live finals).

The judges will evaluate in all entries with the following criteria:

Quality of tone and pitch

Rhythm and voice control

Level of difficulty and dynamics

Abilities and skill as vocalist

Live auditions will add the following criteria:

Marketability as an artist

- Display of confidence
- Use of space
- Song appropriation

Judging - Contestant Expectations

Contestants should prepare a brief introduction of their piece for the audience. After the performance, the judges panel is invited and encouraged to offer commentary. Judges typically offer direct, encouraging, and constructive observations on the nature of the performance with an emphasis on the artist's strengths and helpful advice on how to improve on weaknesses.

The value of this competition is to provide many opportunities to the contestants to learn and improve their artistic expression. Although the rules above may appear rigorous and strictly observed, The Voice of Grove City Vocal Competition volunteers make every effort to ensure that artists have a successful and enjoyable professional experience. Participants are advised that their relationships with competition staff, accompanists, judges, and colleagues should be considerate and professional at all times.

Music Selection

Only songs that are family friendly in their lyrical content will be accepted. This includes all styles and genres.

A digital file of two songs must be emailed as a reply within 48 hours of being chosen to attend the live event via email. Each song will be a minimum length of 3 minutes and no more than 5 minutes in length. Please see the following instrument accompaniment instructions, if applies:

Single instrument accompaniment is permitted.

Keyboard with basic effects and full sound system will be provided.

Guitars or other instruments will need to be provided by the contestant.

Another person playing an instrument is permitted.

No full bands permitted because of setup time issues between contestants.

Attire

For all rounds, all types of attire is permitted as long as it is appropriate for a family friendly audience. Although multiple outfit changes are permitted, please keep the weather in mind for your preference of attire. If attire is not deemed appropriate for a family audience, you will be asked to change into something more appropriate. Please be mindful that part of the judging process involves presentation and marketability as an artist. We respect that all Voice of Grove City judges have a right to their diverse and professional opinion and their constructive advice is to be beneficial for every contestant.

Live Rounds

There will be a total of 2 rounds held on Saturday. No less than 20 contestants will perform outdoors on Saturday during the Arts in the Alley event before a live audience. The first round will be with 20 contestants who were chosen from an online judging process from videos uploaded to the website. Judges will then select the top 10 contestants from the first 20 semi finalists to continue to a final round to be held later that afternoon.

Sound checks will be provided Saturday morning as requested, no later than 1 hour before the event begins.

Attendance and parking for all family and friends is free during the Arts in the Alley event.

Finals Awards

First Place, Second Place and Third Place cash awards and trophies will be announced live at the end of the Final performances. The winner of The Voice of Grove City will be required to attend the following year with an opportunity to perform and be a judge, as well as present to crown the next year's first place winner.
